Joy Cohen

Directed by Margo Whitcomb

Theatre Kavanah premieres a concert reading of Of the Better Kind, a new play by Joy Cohen. In 1910 Burlington, the day before his new work is to be unveiled, artist Ben Zion Black struggles to complete the interior mural for the Chai Adam Synagogue. The community is aflutter as rumors abound, preparations are made, and nerves are frayed. Will the mural be a cause for rejoicing... or something else? Join us for this universal tale of artistic passion, assimilation, and cultural survival.

Based on the true story behind the Lost Shul Mural (www.lostshulmural.org)
